WE NOMINATE

Christine Riddle Stewart, who as effectively as any other living Princetonian personifies all of those qualities of ability and leadership connoted by the familiar expression, "Never underestimate the power of a woman." This past weekend, with some 5,500 alumni converging upon the University Campus for the Annual Reunion Weekend, Miss Stewart—to her surprise and momentary discomfiture—was the guest of honor at the June Meeting of the Princeton National Alumni Association and was accorded a standing vote of acclaim, while present and retired alumni officers recognized her quarter-century of distinguished service by presenting an expenses-paid, six-week vacation in her native Scotland and Continental Europe.

The only woman to hold a "commission" in an organization of 30,000 men, Miss Stewart can be classified as a member of that select group which by its very presence "changes the whole face of affairs." Five years ago she was named Assistant Secretary of the Graduate Council after she had demonstrated that luncheons for as many as 1,200 persons can be handled with a minimum of fanfare, that the "paper-work" for 10 standing committees can be efficiently channeled, that an alumni body can nearly double in size in 25 years (from 16,000-plus in 1929 to some 30,000 in 1954) without adding appreciably to the administrative hierarchy.

During her 25 years in Nassau Hall, Miss Stewart, born in Helensburgh, Scotland, and a descendant of a clan boasting of a rampant Tiger as the dominant feature of its crest, has helped bring into being four of the University's major service agencies: The Bureau of Alumni Records, the Duplicating Bureau, the Reunion Chairmen's Association and the Office of Alumni Appointments. For instance, the last-named, now functioning with 61 representatives in cities in all parts of the country, grew out of the Graduate Council's war-born Personnel Index which initially sought to funnel Princeton alumni into war-essential assignments and then reversed the process late in World War II by serving as an advisory and liaison unit between employers and returning Princeton servicemen.

Miss Stewart, the youngest of nine children and a resident of these United States since 1911, completed her secondary education in Bernards High School, Bernardsville, N. J., and subsequently carried forward Rutgers University extension courses. She "started out" in the University in the office of John Duncan Spaeth, later assisted Dean Radcliffe Heermance and in 1929 transferred to the Graduate Council office, currently the headquarters for the 100 or more regional Princeton alumni associations. An enthusiastic golfer, a gardener with a real interest in landscaping and an avid reader of "good poetry," Miss Stewart's first hobby is symbolized by her "Information Please File" dedicated to answering any and all of the questions directed to the University by interested—or curious—alumni.

For aiding and simplifying the "university tasks" assumed by Princeton alumni scattered throughout the world; for successfully working with the human equation in all that she undertakes; for readily admitting that she is "just a little prejudiced" in favor of Princeton Town and Princeton Gown; she is Town Topics' nominee for

 Silent Night. The annual fireworks celebration, staged in Palmer Stadium each July Fourth for a quarter century, may become a part of the legendary past.
 Cancelled last year because repairs were being made to seats in the giant horse-shoe, the show will be absent from the Princeton scene again this year for the same reason.
 University officials are undertaking a necessary $65,000 repair program in the Stadium, making it unavailable to the public until fall. Princeton Post No. 76, American Legion, has been offered the use of University Field but does not consider the site a suitable substitute.
 The proximity of homes in the area and the parking and traffic problems are believed by the Legion to make University Field unsatisfactory. Since there is a possibility that the Stadium repair program will continue into the summer of 1955, the fireworks program may age aglimmering for good.
 University Year Completed. The 20th annual commencement exercises of Princeton University were held under grey skies on Tuesday, and 873 degrees were presented as over 5,000 persons looked on in the commencement amphitheatre before Nassau Hall.
 Eleven distinguished men, en-headed by Adlai E. Stevenson '22, Dr. Nathan Pusey, president of Harvard, and Chief Justice Arthur
 T. Vanderbilt of the New Jersey
 Supreme Court, received honorary degrees.
 Three of Princeton's most noted professors emeriti were honored by their University. They were Charles Rufus Morey, Edward S.
 Corwin and Henry Norris Russell
 '97. Dr. Russell, dean of American astronomers, received a special ovation as he received an honorary doctorate of science.
 Others honored were William Eves '11, vice-principal of the George School; William Campbell
 Kerr '04, for years a missionary in Korea and Japan; Bishop G.
 Bromley Oxnam, secretary of the council of bishops of the Methodist Church; Elvind Josef Berg-grav, Primate of Norway, and Edgar Odell Lovett, the Princeton professor who served as the first president of Rice Institute.
 Of the 640 bachelor's degrees awarded to the senior class, 16 went to residents of the Princeton area. They were:
 Charles F. Anderson Jr., Dieter
 R. Brill, Philip D. P. Diggon, Richard
 S. Feist, Thomas S. Goolphin,
 Brandon H. Hays, William H.

Raid Test Successful
 Public participation in Monday's nation-wide air raid test drew a rating of "excellent" from Col. Francis J. Darke, Jr., chairman of the Princeton Civilian Defense Council. Defensible personnel, in the role of wardens, regular and auxiliary police, executed assigned duties in highly satisfactory fashion, he reported.
 Violations included failure of a number of children to come in from the street and
 "two or three groups of adults discussing the test in back yards," Col. Darke said. However, traffic on all principal and side streets was at a standstill.
 All air raid sirens functioned properly, giving complete coverage. The "Yellow Alert," or advance warning was received at 9:32 a.m., the sirens sounded at 10:01 and the "all clear" ten minutes later.

New A & P Opens Wednesday.
 A super market which the A & P Food Stores describes as the most modern in its entire chain will open in the Princeton Shopping Center next Wednesday. Company officials report that the new store will "reflect all the modern methods, products and merchandising which the firm has developed in its 55-year history." All departments, including meats and fresh fruits and vegetables, will employ the latest self-service fixtures and techniques.

The official opening is set for 9 a.m. Wednesday. Hours thereafter will be 9 to 6, except Thursdays, when the store will be open until 9 p.m., and Friday, when it will remain open until 10 p.m. The present market at 172 Nassau Street will close permanently at 6 o'clock this Saturday.

The new store will have entrances and exits on the mall at the Shopping Center, as well as directly onto the parking lot. A "parcel pickup" system will eliminate carrying packages across the 5,000-car lot.

Customers will check their bundles at the station just outside the door, under a protecting canopy. When they drive their cars directly to the pickup station, bundles will be loaded by attendants.

Mr. M. Hoppeck, A & P manager in Princeton, and his staff will transfer to the new store, with additional employees ready to handle the increased facilities. Mr. Hoppeck, now in his 20th year with the food chain, said that wide aisles, clearly-designated departments and a long row of checkout counters will speed shopping, with the large amount of sales area making it possible to stock an unusually wide selection of all grocery store merchandise.

Campbell Succeeds Eisenmann.
 James Campbell, Jr., a member of the Township Police Department for the past 18 years and currently holding the position of lieutenant, will become its chief on July 1. His appointment was announced at Monday night's Township Committee meeting, following acceptance of the resignation of Chief Gustave Eisenmann.

Lieutenant Campbell, a lifelong resident of Princeton, is a graduate of Princeton High School. He and his wife, the former Ida Duthie, live at 440 Franklin Avenue with their two children.

Chief Eisenmann, whose resignation was reported here last week, will complete 25 years on the township force. At Monday's meeting, he was commended for "honorable and faithful service to the municipality." His new position will be that of superintendent of grounds and buildings at the Shopping Center.

In other action involving the police department, the committee created the position of sergeant and filled it by advancing Patrolman James D. Rosenberg to that rank. William H. Karch was appointed a patrolman and will serve a one-year probationary term. He is the son of William M. Karch of 141 Jefferson Road, the township's tax assessor.

Heliprot Opposed. The township committee also had a protest from residents of the North Harrison Street area against installation of a heliprot in that section of the municipality. A landing field for the helicopter engaged in air mail service between central New Jersey towns and metropolitan airports is planned there.

It's New to Us

Three Coins. A shopping tour of three stores on Nassau Street showed us a variety of consumer goods designed to lighten the heat load.

Shorts, shirts and pajamas at Lahey's, 150 Nassau, rest lightly on the sunburn. Arrow has nylon and orlon boxer swim shorts in plaid or solid. The plaid has a crinkle in its striped parts, the solid is smooth but not shiny.

Waistbands are fashioned to retain their shape without buckling. Price tag says $5.95. For the top, there's a beach coat in white terry with zipper all the way down for $3.95.

Arrow sports shirts are made of big tissue checks ($3.95) or white nylon that resembles a jacquard except that its figure is a modified check. The nylon is $5.95.

T-shirts are terry, lightweight or regular weight, one with a navy collar and trim, another with tan and white stripe down the front opening. A lightweight knit polo shirt in navy with red flecks costs $3.95.

Men who like a tie with a summer shirt will be interested in the open-weave model with regular sleeve length and convertible collar. It's $3.95.

Summer slacks are only $9 and $10.50 in rayon acetate or a rayon that looks like linen. Tans and browns only.

Bapiste pajamas have short sleeves and legs (Jayson makes these). Also from Jayson is a windowpane seersucker that doesn't need the iron. Regular length pajamas for $5.95 are thin and fine as a well-made dress.

Farther Along . . . Nassau we stopped at The Flower Basket (136 Nassau) to admire a pitcher that holds ice and drink without dilution. It's a big glass pitcher with a giant "test tube" inside that you can lift out and fill with your drink. Thing looks rather like a transparent vacuum bottle.

Fill the pitcher with ice, put the test tube back, and there you are. Price is $15.

A Swedish glass bon-bon dish with cover is a delight to the eye: plain and flawless in the best Swedish tradition, it stands gracefully on a short pedestal, the knobbed glass cover held on securely by a beveled edge. Much too handsome to put anything in.

Sweden also sends some drinking glasses for the pleasant price of eight for $1.60. They are stemless, in varying sizes for different beverages, all without ornament.

A domestic glassware set consists of small decanter in lime-colored or amber glass with six tiny, almost thimble-sized glasses to stand beside it. The set is $2.75.

Two colorful tiles from Spain have been made into a tray. Each tile is eight inches square, held in place by a wrought iron frame with handles. The tiles are quite Moorish in color and pattern—you'll be reminded of The Alhambra. Price is $5.50.

A block salad bowl set in The Flower Basket has carved silver-like base and server handles that are made of something called billium. It won't tarnish and responds to plain soap and water. The bowl is large, the set is $10.

Third Stop . . . on Nassau. The Wright Store at 130 Nassau, where we were introduced to the Roto-Broil Custom 400, a model so new that its predecessor, only two weeks old, is already passe. This new Infra-red cooker bakes, roasts, broils, barbecues, toasts, grills, boils—have we left anything out?

It has a new device called a Bak-A-Tray that you use, as you have guessed, for baking a cake. Or you may use it separately as a hot plate or griddle.

There is a spit to turn your fowl, and it slips out so you can insert a turning grill for your steak. All these processes are done automatically and there is a pilot light timer. The controls are referred to as E-Z-Vue front—Continued on Page 10

Plans announced earlier this year also call for inauguration of passenger service by the 'copters, which are operated by New York Airways. More than two dozen residents signed a petition against a landing field near their homes, referring to the project as a "public nuisance and a danger to life and property." Mayor Albert Salzman backed their viewpoint, indicating that the township committee will take steps to oppose the shift in location of the field from across Carnegie Lake near the RCA Laboratories.

Another matter brought to the committee's attention was the construction of houses of identical appearance in the Rollingmead area. A protest was registered against plans for building "look-alike homes," on the grounds that lack of variance in design would be detrimental to the neighborhood. The governing body indicated belief that legislation against construction of this type was not feasible but asked its attorney, Gordon Griffin, to study the matter.

A School Finds a Home. Mrs. Chapin's School announced this week through the chairman of its board of trustees, Mrs. Amos Eno, that its six-month search for a new home is at least temporarily ended. A two-year lease will be signed for the use of Snowden, the historic and spacious home on the eastern outskirts of the borough.

Use of the building will give the school more than double the floor space it has had at 11 Mercer Street and will permit increasing its enrollment of 45 by approximately 50%. Mrs. Eno said. Some four and a half acres of play space will also be available, in sharp contrast to the limited area in use during the past few years.

The school has announced that it will now be in a position to resume its pre-kindergarten program for four-year old children, which will follow the lower school half-day schedule. The upper school will again be able to offer co-educational classes through the seventh grade. All school equipment will be moved from Mercer —Continued on Page 5

Pills Polled Perfectly

Accuracy to within a thousandth of one percent won the $1,000 prize in the "pill-guessing contest." The unusually close estimate of the number of pills in the jug was made by Albert Westefeld of 39 Rollmead.

Mr. Westefeld's figure was 15,372, just 15 higher than the actual number of 15,357 pills that had been placed in the two-and-a-half foot container. He will have his choice of $1,000 in merchandise from L. Bamberger and Co.

Mr. Westefeld, who is director of research at Opinion Research Corporation, received notification of his success on the eve of his birthday, which occurred Saturday. Proceeds from the $1 entry fees in the contest will be added to the sum raised by the June 5th tele for Princeton Hospital.

Snowden, which stands at the corner of Snowden Lane and Grover Avenue, was for many years the home of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fisher Howe. It was later purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Bernard J. Kilgore and the present owner is Salvatore LaPlaca.

Two Confirmed. Two residents of Princeton have been confirmed by the New Jersey Senate for important positions within the State's administrative framework. Dr. Joseph E. McLean of Ransom Road, a member of the Department of Politics, was approved by the legislative body as the new Commissioner of Economic Development. He succeeds Dr. Charles R. Erdman, Jr. in the $18,000 post, which is a part of Governor Meyner's cabinet.

John P. Poe, President of The First National Bank, has received appointment to the State Banking Advisory Board. He succeeds Bruce Bedford of Trenton.

Alumnus Injured. Julian A. Gregory, 43, of Wilton, Conn., was seriously injured Saturday when he fell from the corner of the roof of the field house while watching the Yale-Princeton baseball game.

Escued to Princeton Hospital in the First Aid Unit ambulance, Mr. Gregory was operated on for a fractured pelvis and also sustained a fractured kneecap and fractures of both heels. Vice-president of the Class of 1935, he was for three years in charge of its Annual Giving program.

Busy Day in Court. More than 40 motorists paid fines totalling $380 in borough court Tuesday, largely the result of a drive conducted by State motor vehicle agents on Stockton Street June 5 to check on those operating cars illegally.

DO IT YOURSELF! IS ALL RIGHT!

IF YOU REALIZE ITS LIMITATIONS!

IT'S ALL RIGHT TO "DO IT YOURSELF," BUT CERTAINLY WHEN IT COMES TO PLUMBING OR HEATING—"DO IT YOURSELF" COULD MEAN DISASTER!

If You Want a Job Done RIGHT

LET A SPECIALIST DO IT

Make-shift plumbing repairs don't make sense . . . may cost you dollars! When something goes wrong, go to a licensed plumber to have it made right . . . to STAY right. It just doesn't pay to "fool around" with plumbing. "Little" troubles can quickly become big expenses when improperly "fixed." Remember: plumbing is a matter of sanitation. And sanitation is a matter of health. Protect your family's health and your pocketbook by having that plumbing job done right the FIRST time . . . by a PLUMBER!

For anything from a minor repair to a major installation call on an experienced contractor, for expert workmanship, prompt service, fair prices.

Call Your Plumber

DON'T TAKE CHANCES!

Be SAFE—Don't Be SORRY!

This photo graphically illustrates what happens with faulty installation. Don't be a "Mr. Fix-It" when it comes to plumbing or heating. Call your plumbing or heating contractor.

controls but they looked to us as complex as the control panel of an airliner.
These cookers are splendid for hot weather, of course, and they use very little electricity. With the Bak-A-Tray, the new model costs $49.95; without it, $39.95.

Sunbeam has a new coffee percolator. Completely automatic, it will keep two to eight cups hot indefinitely after they have perked. A dial offers you a choice of "milder-stronger" and all for $29.95.

A sturdy wading pool made of heavy-duty canvas is not always easy to find. The Wright Store has one, 42 by 83 inches for $17.95 with corner seats and a shower attachment. The canvas is bright yellow, the binding brown. A smaller size (42 by 66) is $14.95.

Bare Back... in this instance refers not to equestrian technique but to summer comfort for ladies. We found a fine example at Bailey's, 14 Witherspoon, in the form of a halter-skirt combination made of clinkleton (translation: no iron). The print is a wide modern one on white with a suggestion of fishiness in its outline forms, and colors like olive green, terra-cotta and charcoal.

The halter is lined with one of the colors in the print, so that it's reversible. Reverse side is charcoal or cinnamon, depending on the flavor you choose. Price is $10.95.

Neither do you iron the pieces of a sports outfit consisting of skirt, shorts, shirt and bra. Comes in pale pink or aqua. The same set, but you iron this one, comes in a neat cotton cord, blue and white hair-line stripe.

An Indian-style, or Arizona hogan-effect dress comes in melon pink. Its accordion-pleated skirt falls in three tiers of melon, three different shades. A ripper melon rickrack trims the V-neck and edges the sleeveless armhole. A similar dress in two pieces is made of calico trimmed in rickrack that is just printed on.

The little-girl look characterizes a sleeveless round-collared dress with smocking at its yoke. The background is white and the print, like a good little girl, says both "YES" and "NO" in black letters. It costs $9.85.

For wide, off-shoulder dresses, Bailey's now has a white Fruit-of-the-loom cotton hira, with special straps that slip low on the shoulder. Fabric is an eyelet.

Swimmers who shop for a suit at Bailey's may choose from several styles: little-boy shorts, bloomer leg, or tank. We liked a red and white candy stripe with bloomer leg and shirred back. Another that would suit almost any beachcomber is a navy lastex with plaid bloomer leg and plaid bosom.

Cover up with a white corduroy beach coat cut the length of the suit, deeply cuffed at the sleeve for $6.95.

To wear over your bare back on a cool evening buy a duster of faille, cut full with three-quarter sleeves tight at the cuff and a gently rounded stand-up collar. Comes in black or beige, partially lined for $12.95.

Or invest $4.95 in a white orlon shrug, soft as a kitten. It could go over a sleeveless blouse that has a wide neck and front buttons. In white, black or navy for $2.98.

Host With the Most. The Peter Pauper Press, known for many years as a publisher of fine editions at budget prices, has turned its type face toward cook-books. We found four of them at the Witherspoon Art and Book Shop, Spring Street, and we suggest that you consider them if you want an unusual inexpensive gift.

Two of these little volumes are sold together in a box. They are "The ABC of Canapes" and "The ABC of Cocktails," each with sprightly cover and recipes printed in good bold type, so you don't have to squint to find out how many teaspoons. The pair is $2.

For $1 each, there is "The ABC of Barbecue" for the man on your list who plans to mix sauces this summer, and "The ABC of Casseroles" which would be fine for a bridal shower.

New Penguins from England are on the A & B shelves. We browsed a long time in two of "The Things We See" series—one called "Furniture" and the other "Glass and Pottery." Both are actually pictures. —Continued on Page 11

He is survived by his wife, the former Ruth Joyce Cook; his mother, Mrs. Samuel H. Tattersall of Baltimore; a son, Samuel, Jr., of Princeton; and two daughters, Mrs. William H. Flag of Princeton and Mrs. Herman Baumer of New York. The service at Trinity Episcopal Church was followed by interment at the convenience of the family.

Mrs. Ida E. Wilhelm, 73, of Kingston, died June 13 in Princeton Hospital. Wife of Ernest R. Wilhelm, she is the mother of Richard H. Wilhelm, Professor of Chemical Engineering at Princeton University. Two sisters, two brothers and three grandchildren also survive. The service was held from the Bodine Funeral Home in Kingston.

Mrs. Eleanor H. Yuhas, 43, of Alexander Road, Princeton Junction, died June 11 in Princeton Hospital. The widow of John Yuhas, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Anna Kiernan and Mrs. Gene Klana of Princeton Junction. The service at the Kimble Funeral Home was followed by burial in Mount Hope Cemetery, Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y.

ture books (black and white photographs) with brief textual explanations and both lean toward modern design. Each one is $6.

Other new titles are "Dreams and Nightmares," "Famous Trials '41" (part of a series), "The Penguin Handyman," and "New Biology '46"—a rather mismatched quartet, it seems to us. For the student in your family, "Tom Sawyer" and "Huck Finn."

The Witherspoon Art and Book Store will be closed for one month of July but this list should provide enough reading to sustain you until August 1.

Wright, James W. Wyckoff, Sylvia A. Yard, Katherine M. Young, Patricia J. Young, Louis M. Zalvino, Jr., Beverly A. Zissman.

Miss Mentor Chosen. The Business and Professional Women's Club has elected Miss Myrtle Mentor as its president for next year. Miss Mentor was installed with the other officers on Monday by Mrs. Roberta Halligan, president-elect of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Others who took office were Mrs. Marjorie Kerr, first vice-president; Miss Priscilla Emmons, second vice-president; Miss Beatrice Bowen, recording secretary; Mrs. Polly Steele, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Josephine Konover, treasurer.

The biennial meeting of the national women's club organization will be held in St. Louis from June 27 to July 2. Miss Alice Braveman will represent the Princeton club, while Miss Mentor will attend as one of the delegates from the New Jersey organization.

First Outing in Park. The YMCA's annual Father and Son Banquet will be held Saturday, June 26, in Marquand Park, Stockton and Lovers Lane. The event is the first large outing to be held on the 17-acre tract, acquired recently by the borough for recreational purposes.

A program of competitive games between boys and their fathers is being planned for the occasion, with a variety of refreshments topping off the afternoon. The committee in charge includes William Hooke, Roy Norton, Howard Lane, Thomas Robbins, Wesley Marshall and Ralph Papa.

Tickets for the outing may be purchased at the Y's youth center on John Street, at the adult building on Witherspoon Street or from any member of the committee. Boys are asked to come with their fathers if possible, with the outing closed to women.

Presbyterians to Meet Here. The annual meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Synodical Society of the Synod of New Jersey will be held at Princeton Theological Seminary Campus Monday and Tuesday. Sessions are scheduled for 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. on Monday in Miller Chapel and 2:30 on Tuesday. Registration for each session is 25 cents.

The program will include reports from the society's national meeting, held earlier this year at Purdue University, as well as several speakers from various parts of the world. Their theme will be "Christ Is the Way."

The Northampton Male Chorus of 30 voices from Mount Holly will sing during the two-day program. Mrs. Frank H. Ramsey, president of the Synodical Society, will moderate the meeting.

Girls' Conference Opens. The Middle Atlantic area of the Northfield League has started its week-long girls' conference here. The occasion marks the League's second annual conference at the and annual conference at the Westminster Choir College.

The session will continue through next Wednesday. A highlight will be a public address by Dr. Harold Smith, formerly of Princeton, on Sunday in the University Chapel. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Norman Perkins (tel. 2831-J).

New Buses to Trenton. New buses which provide greater capacity, with all seats facing forward, have been placed in service between Princeton and Trenton by the Trenton Transit Company. Forty-five passengers, eight more than in the older type of bus, can now be accommodated. Rankin—Continued on Page 16

News of the Theatres

New McCarter Head. The news that Mrs. Marguerite McAneny, who has devoted herself for years to the theatrical life of Princeton, has been named the new resident manager of McCarter Theatre was confirmed this week by Col. Arthur Fox, chairman of McCarter's supervisory board of trustees.

Mrs. McAneny succeeds Richard M. Skinner, who resigned as general manager of McCarter after less than five months here. Mr. Skinner, a former New York theatre manager and producer, accepted a post as general manager and co-producer of a new theatre which has been opened in Los Angeles.

At the time of Mr. Skinner's resignation, Col. Fox announced that McCarter would continue its recent policy of presenting as many road company and pre-Broadway productions as possible. It is understood that the University intends to hire a New York agent to handle a part of the bookings with New York producers, while Mrs. McAneny will be in charge of all local arrangements.

Mrs. McAneny is currently vice-president of the Community Players, which she has headed in the past and in whose activities she has played a major part over the years. She has been active in work for the McCarter in the past and has been in charge of dramatic work at Miss Fine's School. She is currently the curator of the University's theatre collection in Firestone Library.

A dearth of available shows was a major reason for the fact that only three major productions were presented at the McCarter while Mr. Skinner was in charge. At the time of his appointment, it was understood that eventually a summer season would be opened at McCarter, but plans for a strawhat entry at the theatre remain indefinite.

COMMUNITY PLAYERS

The Community Players are now offering "Bell, Book and Candle" as their final production of the season. The comedy continues nightly through Saturday at Avalon, the Players' home at 59 Bayard Lane.

Tickets at $1 may be obtained at the door, and the proceeds of the show are being turned over for the benefit of the Princeton Small Animal Rescue League. Curtain time is 8:30.

The John Van Druten comedy deals with an attractive young "modern witch" who uses natural and supernatural means to ensnare a publisher. Joan Kennan is being seen as the witch, while A. Munroe Wade is cast in the part of the publisher.

Harriet Wattress is playing Miss Kennan's witch aunt, while Lorin Zissman is acting the part of her brother, who is also a magician. Thomas Potter plays an interested writer. The comedy is under the direction of Francis Schmertz.

MURRAY THEATRE

The University Players have decided on a complete schedule for their eight-week season, with the exception of a next-to-last production still to be chosen. The productions announced by producer Charles H. Schultz indicate that varied and interesting fare will be on show at Murray Theatre during this season.

Full details of the plays, dates and ticket information may be found in the advertisement on page 17. Further information may be obtained by calling the Players' box office (tel. 3539).

The season will open up in ten days with Tennessee Williams' "Camino Real". The occasion will mark the first off-Broadway production of the play as recently revised by Mr. Williams. The play will run Monday-Saturday, June 28-July 3.

"Camino Real" will be directed by James MacAllen, who did Mr. Williams' "Rose Tattoo" last summer to get the Players off to a fine start. Mr. MacAllen has had wide theatrical experience and is currently an associate director for CBS television. Among the leading shows which he has handled for CBS are "Studio One" and "Omnibus".

Bill Butler, resident director for the company, will direct the second production of the season. Luigi Pirandello's comedy "Right You Are", which opens July 5. For their third production, the players will present the American premiere of a light-hearted English comedy about Napoleon, "Penny for a Song".

An evening of one-act plays will again be a feature. This summer's selection will be Sean O'Casey's hilarious "Bedtime Story", Everett Ruess's "Theatre of the Soul" and "Queens of France" by Thornton Wilder.

Henrik Ibsen's great classic, "Ghosts", will be the fifth offering. It will be followed by Howard Lindsay's musical of the '20's, "She Loves Me Not". The production for the week of August 9 is still to be selected, but the Players have decided to close with Shakespeare's romantic comedy "Twelfth Night".

PRINCETON SYMPHONY

A special outdoor orchestral serenade will be given by the Princeton Symphony Orchestra this Saturday evening at 8:30 in the large court of the Graduate College. The occasion will mark the first outdoor concert there since the Philadelphia Orchestra under Leopold Stokowski played at the dedication of the building in 1913.

Tickets may be obtained at the University Store and at the entrances to the court on Saturday night. All tickets are $1.80 and there will be no reserved seats. In case of rain the serenade will be given in Alexander Hall.

The program will open with a Concerto Grosso by Telemann for two solo horns and string orchestra. Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Wilber are the soloists. Mr. Wilber is a regular member of the Princeton Symphony. He is a violinist as well as a horn player, and has served as first horn of the Cincinnati Symphony and the New York Philharmonic. Mrs. Wilber is at present the first horn player with the New York City Ballet Orchestra.

The other works on the program will be the Haydn Symphony No. 49 ("La Passione"), Bartok's Roumanian Dances, and Serenade for Strings by Tchaikovsky. The Princeton Symphony will be under the direction of Nicholas Harsanyi.

BUCKS COUNTY PLAYHOUSE

"The Cocktail Party" by T.S. Eliot winds up its highly successful two-week run at the Bucks County Playhouse with performances nightly at 8:40 through Saturday, and a Saturday matinee. The comedy has an all-star cast that includes Uta Hagen, Ilka Chase, Edna Best, Murray Matheson, Philip Bourneuf, Jerome Cowan and Richard Waring.

The succeeding production will be "Time of the Cuckoo", the Arthur Laurents comedy. Miss Best will return to the Playhouse in the leading role of Leona Samish, the part in which Shirley Booth scored on Broadway.

The part is that of a comical American secretary who takes a trip to Venice in search of continental romance. Reno Negri will play the sophisticated Italian who shows the unmarried secretary the sights of Venice and his own brand of romance.

Mr. Cowan will be seen as a bustling American tourist, while Sylvia Gassel, who was in the original Broadway production, will return as the good-natured cook. Other members of the cast include Claire Kirby, Lee Phillips, Ralph Robertson Jr., Judith Elder, Elsa Freed and Louis Criss. James Gelb is the director.

MUSIC CIRCUS

"Brigadoon" continues its present run at the Music Circus in Lambertville through this Sunday evening. There is also a Saturday matinee. The next entrant at the musical tent will be Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Carousel", starting on Tuesday for a two-week stay.

The popular "Brigadoon" is in its third engagement at Lambertville, having been put on in 1950 and '51. Beth Parker (as Fiona) and Jack Cassidy (as Tommy) have both come from the cast of Broadway's recent "Wish You Were Here" to make their debuts at the Music Circus.

Other members of the cast include Frank Maxwell, Jimmy Jamieson, Lee Remick, Harry Snow, Susan Johnson, Morton Stevens and Janet Picard. Miss Johnson was in the Broadway company of "Brigadoon".

THE PLAYHOUSE

Elephant Walk (Thurs.-Sat.) is the name of the Ceylon plantation where Elizabeth Taylor finds herself as the bride of Peter Finch. A gloomy atmosphere of tension and native passions estrange Miss Taylor, sending her in the direction of Dana Andrews. Among the ensuing catastrophes are a cholera quarantine, a stampede and destruction of the plantation by wild elephants, and a roaring fire. A good photographic job, in Technicolor.

The Naked Jungle (Sun.-Tues.) sets up a massed army of jungle ants as the adversary. Some pretty routine romantic threads involving Eleanor Parker and Charlton Heston are subsidiary in interest to the general background of life in the jungle and particularly, that battle with the ants. Guess who wins. Technicolor.

Town Baseball Team Ready. Plans are nearing completion to give Princeton a town baseball team this summer and to assure annual activity on the diamond each year. Participation in the old Central Jersey and Twin-M Leagues ended some seasons back, with the last Twin-M games played in 1951.

No ball was played here in the summer of 1952, an unusual situation for a community of some 15,000 souls. Many a town of less than 3,000 musters enough good players to provide a highly capable team.

Last summer, an informal schedule was arranged in July for a young team headed by Chick Davis. No league existed, but the outfit played a dozen games and lost only one of them.

As reported here last week, Davis will again serve as player-manager of the 1954 team. Arrangements now nearing final shape call for adoption of the

Easton Elected

John Easton, whose ability has brought him keen scouting observation from the New York Giants, has been elected captain of next year's Princeton baseball team. He succeeds Eddie Stimpson, catcher for the last three years.

Easton, named last week to the NCAA District II team, has been considered for the Tigers during the past two seasons, but may take over at first base next spring. He played there Saturday against Yale. A resident of Trenton, he batted over 300 this year and is also a starting member of the Princeton basketball team.

formal name of The Princeton Athletic Club for the team that will represent this community. The organization flourished for a number of years before and after the first World War.

Expectations were this week that the Hopewell Raiders, Montgomery Township and Lambertville would enter the four-team league with Princeton. Games will be played on Brokaw Field Tuesday nights at 6:15, with one road contest also set each week. A number of home-and-home contests with non-league teams are also being arranged.

O'Kane is Chairman. Roger O'Kane has been named chairman of the committee working to put Princeton back on the diamond. A life-long resident of this community, he has long been interested in the sport and as a boy was mascot of the 1908 Engine Company No. 1 team. Personnel manager at DeLaval Steam Turbine Co. in Trenton, Rog is a member of the borough's board of education.

E. E. Bergesen, who has been active here and in other communities in organizing baseball for younger boys, will serve as treasurer of the committee. He is commissioner of the YMCA-sponsored Midget League in Princeton. Other committee members are Davis, Delmar Lipp, Chester Page, James Samuels, Donald Stuart, Jr. and Roger Yard.

A six-week season is planned, under the guidance of Charlie Caldwell, Princeton football coach and former baseball coach, as commissioner. Fully - uniformed teams will be fielded, with each entry posting a $25 bond that will be forfeited if it fails to complete the season.

The first game will be played Tuesday evening on Brokaw Field at 6:15. Information on other contests scheduled during the season will appear here on a weekly basis. It is estimated that $400 to $500 will be needed to underwrite the cost of uniforms, bats and balls, umpires fees and insurance. Community sponsorship will be sought, with further details to be made public next week.

Young Leagues Active. Opportunity to play ball at younger ages here is provided by two leagues, one for "midgets"—from 10 to 12 years of age—and another for boys up to 16 sponsored by the Princeton Playgrounds Committee. Backers of the Midget League, each of whom pay $75 for bats, balls and shirts for their teams, are Hull's Shoe Store, Farr Hardware, Gorer Chevrolet, Town Topics, the Music Shop, Dr. Leon C. Nurock, the Rotary and Lions Clubs and the Lions Clubs of West—Continued on Page 20

Windsor and Plainsboro.

The circuit began four years ago with six teams and has grown to ten since that time. The diamonds are smaller, calling for a pitching distance ten feet less than standard and bases 68 feet apart instead of 90.

Play will start the last week of this month in the Junior Baseball League, with Chick Davis serving as commissioner. Last year's sponsors, each of whom paid $100, were Bannaman's, Lewis C. Bowers and Sons, Thorne's Drug Store and the Hook and Ladder Company. The latter has indicated that it will not participate this season and a fourth sponsor is being sought.

A league for boys from 16 to 19 is being discussed by YMCA's in Mercer, Middlesex and Monmouth Counties. Princeton is among them, but financial sponsorship and a coach are needed.

Smith Honored. Homer A. Smith, captain of the 1953 football team and a letter-winner in track as a hurdler, is the recipient of the highest honor Princeton can confer on an athlete. He won the Roper Trophy, given annually to the senior best combining "high scholastic rank, outstanding qualities of sportsmanship and general proficiency in athletics."

Homer also won the Poe Trophy last fall, and was named to the All-Ivy Group team in both 1952 and 1953. He is expected to play pro football with the Chicago Cardinals.

Eighteen athletes were honored at exercises held in Alexander Hall Monday morning. The Biddle Trophy for good sportsmanship in rowing was presented to Brandon Hurt, a member of the varsity crew and son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hart of Lilaac Lane.

PRIZE-WINNER: The Roper Trophy, top Princeton athletic award, went to Homer Smith.

Tigers Thumped. It rained a year ago when Princeton was scheduled to play Yale in the regular baseball game and, because the contest would determine the 1953 Eastern League championship, it was rescheduled. If it had rained last Saturday, the game would not have been played and the Tigers would not have ended their season by coming apart at the seams.

Memories that go back to the early 'twenties do not recall a worse beating than the 13-1 defeat the Orange and Black sustained following the alumni parade. The victory was Yale's first here since 1947, ending a string that matched the series of football victories over the Blue. As will be recalled, that also came to an end last fall.

It was a somewhat astounding performance for a team that had won 13 of its first 15 games, finished second in the league and trimmed the Elis handily in the first game on June 4. Three Princeton pitchers were clobbered for 16 hits good for 22 bases, the victors scoring in every inning after the third.

At bat, Princeton was held to six scattered singles by Ken MacKenzie, a Yale sophomore who was good but certainly not the equal of some of the pitchers whom the Tigers have beaten this year. MacKenzie had control but nothing else particularly noteworthy yet he held Princeton in check virtually every minute of the game.

News Of The Theatres

(Wed.-Tues.) plays for a week in Technicolor CinemaScope. It picks up where "The Robe" ended, so you can judge accordingly. The same Roman sets are used, as well as much of the same personnel. Victor Mature is again Demetrius, the slave; Jay Robinson plays the emperor Caligula and Michael Rennie, Peter.

The picture deals with various combat with gladiators and wild animals; the lecherous intentions of Susan Hayward (as the empress Messalina); the wavering of Demetrius' Christian faith, and various other events, all depicted on a spectacular scale. Technically, an improvement over "The Robe."

THE GARDEN

Yankee Pasha (Fri.-Sat.) finds Jeff Chandler valiantly rescuing Rhonda Fleming all over the lot. He's originally a frontiersman, bunt he mixes things up with pirates, sultans and various other villains in a series of prison breaks and battles just about all around the world. Mamie Van Doren is a shapely slave girl, and the picture has action, romance, exotic settings, more girls and Technicolor, all on the most popular scale.

Witness to Murder (Mon.-Wed.) finds Barbara Stanwyck in another detective story thriller, one that's a bit below par. George Sanders is the villain and Gary Merrill the cop. Some psychiatry is mixed in as Sanders tries to dispose of witness Stanwyck with hallucination charges. A contrived chase and a cliff-hanger conclusion.

Creature from the Black Lagoon (Thurs.-Sat.) will wind up activities at The Garden until September. It's a hack science fiction piece, the creature being supposedly a scaly survivor of the Devonian Epoch. He messes up a fair number of scientists in the Amazon jungle and even kidnaps Julia Adams, a screaming, bathing-suited researcher. Under water much of the time, in several ways.

been a home run without the ground rules but since no one was on base at the time and Savage scored eventually, it made little difference. He came around on successive fielders' choices, beating a throw to the plate on Royce Flippin's slow bounder to the first baseman.

Yale then tied the score on a double by Joe Johnson and a single by Hugo Guidotti, and in the fifth, got the game away from the Tigers for good. Five hits including a bases-filled double by Guidotti and a triple by Bill Colville were translated into five runs, more than enough the way the Tigers were being mowed down at the plate.

Craig McClelland replaced Joe Castle in the sixth and yielded five runs in the next three innings, three of them unearned. Sophomore Jim Gibson was tagged for the last three in the ninth.

Saddest part of the day, of course, was the fact that Castle ran into such rugged going in the last game of his career. Joe had compiled a fine 8-2 record over the season, with an earned run average of .94. He had invariably shown ability to pitch his way out of difficulty and three of his victories were shutouts.

He faced only nine batters in the first three innings on Saturday but thereafter lost his touch rapidly. All of the six runs charged to him were earned, in sharp contrast to the 7-1 victory he had racked up against Yale on June 4 to give the Tigers second place in the Eastern League.

Three to Graduate. Joe will be badly missed next year, particu-

Season Ends

The final event of the 1953-54 intercollegiate season on the Princeton schedule will be the national rowing regatta, to be staged Saturday at Syracuse on Lake Onondaga. The Tigers will be represented in the varsity, jayvee and freshman races.

Ten freshman crews will row two miles at 2 o'clock. An hour later, nine jayvee shells will cover the three-mile course, with a dozen varsity entries leaving the stake boats at 4.

Navy is favored to retain its title, with Cornell, Washington and Pennsylvania the most likely challengers. Princeton at best is a dark horse—anything better than a fifth place finish will be a major achievement for the Tigers.

larly with Dick Emery such a question mark because of his sore arm. Eddie Stimpson, captain and veteran catcher, and Dick Savage, a three-year fixture at short, are the other seniors in the starting lineup. Stimpson's job will probably go to Ed MacMillan, a stand-out catcher on the freshman team.

Coach Eddie Donovan, whose team finished with a 15-8 record, had John Easton at first base for the first time this year. A versatile athlete, Easton played that position and pitched in Trenton High and in American Legion ball.

He has been the Tigers' center-fielder for two seasons, but may wind up on first next year. Frank Mountcastle, one of the fastest men on the squad, was his replacement in center. Mountcastle is also a junior, as are Gordie Gray and Pete Millard, the other fielders.
